To Whom It May Concern:

This is a testimonial regarding our Microsoft Certified IT provider / System's Engineer Phil Jaderborg. He has installed a new server and computer network in our office recently. This also required him to review the hardware requirements of a new software system that we are installing and transfer all of our old software and data to the new system.

Phil has made this large project very easy. He has always been on time, available for urgent problems, and quickly responsive to email and phone calls. Pricing estimates have been accurate and he has been generous with very fair billing practices. He helped us purchase our new computers from Dell, getting us a very good deal and not making any money from the hardware itself. Technically, Phil has been excellent and worked very well with the support staff for our new Electronic Medical Record software company and our office staff.

I cannot recommend Phil more highly and think anyone with computer hardware needs will find his work and integrity excellent.
